Education 1993 1985 1970	St. Elizabeth University (formerly, C	College of Saint Elizabeth), NJ
Professional & Academic Experience August 2011 - Present

Developed and currently teach the following courses on a rotating basis:

• Undergraduate

•

- Fundamentals of Accounting
- Financial Reporting I (Intermediate Accounting I)
- Financial Reporting II (Intermediate Accounting II)
- Financial Reporting III (Accounting Research & Communication)
- Masters of Business Administration (MBA)
- Financial Reporting (Core)
 - o Financial Statement Analysis
 - Energy Accounting

Taught previously the following courses: Financial Reporting Research and Valuation for Accountants I and II to Master of Accounting (MAc) students and Advanced Financial Reporting (Intermediate Accounting) to MBA students.

Developed the MBA Energy Accounting course designed to familiarize MBA students with the basics of oil and gas accounting and the disclosures required of oil and gas companies in their annual reports.

Developed the Financial Reporting III (FR3) course designed to introduce undergraduate students to the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standard Codification (ASC) as the primary source of guidance for financial accounting and reporting issues and develop their research skills using that guidance. A case-based course, FR3 is also designed to improved students' critical thinking and oral and written communication skills.

Developed a Financial Reporting II (FR2) course designed to address the needs of finance majors to understand the limitations of and use financial statements for investment and credit decisions. This course covers all of the topics covered in a traditional FR2 course from the perspective of a user, rather than a preparer or auditor, of corporate financial statements.

Co-developed two global perspective courses, International Financial Reporting and Global Markets and Accounting and Global Perspectives. Both courses are part of the Master of Accounting Program. The former course includes a travel component.

Honors Theses (August 2014 – Present)

Supervised five (5) students with either an Accounting or Finance major who wish to earn departmental honors by completing an honors thesis. Acted as second committee member for four (4) students with Finance and other majors.

Faculty Advisor, Beta Gamma Sigma Honor Society (May 2013 – May 2016) Identified Neeley students eligible for induction into Beta Gamma Sigma and encouraged them to join. Organized the annual induction ceremony.

Director, Professional Program in Accounting (May 2012-December 2013) As Director of the Professional Program in Accounting, manage the Neeley School's academic program designed to prepare students academically and professionally for successful accounting and tax careers.

April 2006 – August 2011 Fordham University, Schools of Business

Clinical Associate Professor, Accounting

Director, CFA Program Partnership – BS in Finance

Teach upper level External Financial Reporting (Intermediate and Advanced) courses at graduate and undergraduate schools. Developed and teach International Accounting to MBA students. Developed and teach Accounting for Finance Majors course at undergraduate level which addresses financial statement analysis topics covered on Level I of the CFA examination program. International Accounting covers comparative financial statement analysis of companies reporting under International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), transfer pricing, foreign currency transactions and translation issues, inflation accounting. Previously taught Financial Accounting for Executive MBA Program. As Director of the CFA Institute Program partnership with the Bachelor of Science in Finance program at the College of Business Administration, organize speakers for CFA Week during the spring semester, manage application process for student scholarships for the CFA Level I exam, and communicate benefits of acquiring CFA designation to students.
